Molson Coors sets its approach to tax at the enterprise level, with the review and approval of its Board of Directors. It governs the management of its tax affairs based on principles that align fully with its worldwide commercial, sustainability, and corporate governance practices, including compliance with all local tax laws and regulations.

Molson Coors considers tax efficiencies when undertaking commercial activity, with the aim of enhancing shareholder value. It conducts transactions among business units within its enterprise on an arm’s length basis in accordance with appropriate transfer pricing rules established by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD).

Molson Coors proactively manages tax risk and employs an experienced team of tax professionals to oversee its tax affairs, obtaining external advice from reputable, independent advisors when appropriate. It engages transparently with local tax authorities and consults with them on a regular basis.

Our adherence to internal controls and current tax regulations is regularly reviewed by Internal Audit and external independent auditors.

Updated March 2018